Teijin to Participate in Intertextile Shanghai Apparel Fabrics

Tokyo, Japan, March 08, 2017 --- Teijin Limited announced today that Nantong Teijin Co., Ltd., the group's textile-manufacturing and sales company based in Nantong, China, will participate in Intertextile Shanghai Apparel Fabrics–Spring Edition 2017, one of the world's biggest and most comprehensive exhibitions of apparel fabric and accessories. The show will be held at the National Exhibition and Convention Center in Shanghai from March 15 to 17.

The Teijin stand (stand J29, 7-1H) will showcase post-processed materials for the expanding outdoor market. One material, laminated MICROFT®, is a moisture-permeable, water-repellent fabric that resists water pressure beyond 10,000mm yet has a supple texture thanks to its special laminating process. Fashion fabrics mainly for bottoms, also will be exhibited at the stand.

The displays will also feature eco-friendly Teijin materials, including a cutting-edge chemically recycled polyester and SOLOTEX®, a soft and stretchable polytrimethylene terephthalate fiber.

Nantong Teijin will exhibit nearly 300 materials and 50 products in total.

Nantong Teijin, as a result of participating in Intertextile Shanghai Apparel Fabrics–Spring Edition 2017, looks forward to cultivate new customers as well as to expand transactions with existing customers and expanding its global markets for various fields including sportswear and fashion apparel.
